"TOGETHER" FEATURES NEW WAYS TO CREATE FAMILY MEMORIES

Nothing crystallized what's important in life faster than the events of last year. In the aftermath of catastrophe, as we collectively embraced each other, we re-ordered priorities. Traditional family values have become more important to everyone. Parents no longer want to postpone time spent with their children. Families are closer together today than they have been in a long time.

A new from NineTwentyPress, directed at modern parents who are searching for ways to enrich quality time with their children, brings families closer together. The book, entitled Together: Creating Family Traditions by Rondi Hillstrom Davis and Janell Sewall Oakes, is a book that addresses a back-to-basics philosophy themed around family togetherness.

Together: Creating Family Traditions is a cheerful book that will put a smile on your face - a book that brings out the child in all of us. It fills us with memories of our own childhood, and shows us how to share those wonderful times with our own children. Simply stated, this is a book created to involve parents with their children in a variety of imaginative, seasonal, and holiday activities. It identifies directly with parents and children through beautiful, inviting photographs, easy-to-read text, and recipes with interactive ideas for the whole family to enjoy.

Photographs of children running a sack race and stomping in puddles, families stuffing a scarecrow together, playing tug of war, catching fireflies, planting gardens, or simply picking flowers - all events that evoke nostalgia from a simpler period. These fun, yet timeless activities require nothing mechanical, automated, or electronic - just good old-fashioned togetherness.

Together: Creating Family Traditions inspires moms and dads to start their own traditions with their children. A 'must have' for all parents - a book that can be passed from generation to generation. Together makes an ideal gift not only for the current holiday season, but a welcome contribution for baby showers, expecting mothers, birthdays, and celebratory holidays. A family gift of sharing that is priceless.
